

Forms of Business Organizations and Other Related Issues

Entrepreneurs Club
August 2, 2003, 7:00-10:00pm
MIT E25/117

In this monthly networking event, we invited Attorney Wei Jia to talk about some issues of corporate law. The title was "Forms of Business Organizations and Other Related Issues." His talk covered many issues important to starting and running a company.

Attorney Wei Jia is licensed to practice law in Massachusetts, New York and Louisiana. He has a Master of Law degree in Private International Law from Northwest Law Institute, Xi'an, China, an LL.M and S.J.D in Comparative Law from Tulane Law School, New Orleans, LA, and a J.D. from Suffolk Law School, Boston, MA. His book "Chinese Foreign Investment Laws and Policies" was published in 1994 by Greenwood Publishing House, Westport, Connecticut. Prior to his coming to the United States, Attorney Jia practiced law with an international trade and investment law firm in Suzhou, China. His current areas of practice include corporate law, business law, real estate law, estate planning, immigration law, and domestic relations. He is a member of Massachusetts Bar Association.

